Following the purchase of Court Security Services of Utah, Bob Conner, CEO of All Pro Security said, "I have been impressed with our growth over the past 12 years. In our most recent years, we have more than doubled in size each year and are surpassing company goals. When we came upon an opportunity to purchase one of our largest competitors in the court security and transport division, we moved forward with it. With this acquisition, we now service 24 of the cities in Utah and are looking to grow even more. Our satisfied customers have caused us to look at ways to build into new divisions of the company and their positive feedback and referrals have been very beneficial in the increase of our government accounts."

The progress and continued growth for All Pro Security is exciting considering they are a local company competing against many national firms. Although the national competition has been a challenge for APS, the local edge has been advantageous when it comes to creating personal relationships with clients. Curtis Preece, of The Salt Lake City Justice Court, testifies to this saying, "As I have gotten to know Bob and his team, their industry knowledge and professionalism has come through on a consistent basis. While here, his team has displayed a complete and very balanced understanding of the complex organization and operations of the largest municipal court in the State of Utah." Bob Conner makes an effort to meet each client face-to-face and know the ins and outs of the property his company is securing.

With the purchase of Court Security Services of Utah, All Pro Security is leading the way in expansion efforts and local presence.
